New beginnings

It feels like forever,
but will it ever change?
It feels like, it feels like,
it stays the same.

I think about how it used to be,
if I regret anything.
I know, I know,
I should have done it long ago.

I try and I try,
I can't let it go.
Old things must die,
because everything new
only starts with an end.

I know what I want,
but not what I wanted,
now I'm living my dream
and forget what I wanted.
So hard to let go,
because everything new
only starts with an end.
So hard to let go,
because everything new
only starts with an end.

It feels like now or never,
get up and go ahead.
Could I, could I
moving on instead.
I look into the mirror,
with a smile and say goodbye.
I can't believe,
how good it feels
still so unreal.

I try and I try,
I can't let it go.
Old things must die,
because everything new
only starts with an end.

I know what I want,
but not what I wanted,
now I'm living my dream
and forget what I wanted.
So hard to let go,
because everything new
only starts with an end.
So hard to let go,
because everything new
only starts with an end.
